

Best Coffee

Donkey

Repeating from last year, the locally owned Donkey Coffee and Espresso on Washington Street takes our top honors for pouring out the Best Coffee in Athens.

If you want to be a really hip town, you have to have a really hip coffee house. It can't just serve coffee. It has to offer espresso and latté and chai and cappuccino and soymilk and steaming French Vanilla double caffeine abominations topped with whipped cream made out of tiger's milk. Also a nice selection of danish. And books. And a lot of people have to sit in there all day working on their laptop computers.

Donkey is kind of like that, but in a good way. They have a nice, laid-back atmosphere with big comfy couches and chairs, and they provide a good venue for acoustic music.

Second place goes to Perk's, and third place to Brenen's.
