

Jonathan Harris prepares coffee for customers Friday afternoon last week at Donkey Coffee.

Best Place for Friendly Service

Donkey Coffee

Don't you love this place? You sit back in your comfortable chair, sipping from a cup of heavenly java, and an employee comes up and starts shining your shoes, manicuring your nails and blowing in your ear. Man, that's friendly!

OK, maybe they don't do all that stuff at Donkey Coffee, but I'll bet they would if you asked them to.

No, Donkey provides the old-fashioned sort of friendly service, a smile, a few kind words and a steaming cup-a-joe.

Second in this category this year is Kroger, where all the checkout folks are friendly to a fault, and where if you're looking for something, the employees will fall all over themselves to help you. Third place goes to C&E, a past repeat winner in this category, with Import House coming in fourth.