Donkey Coffee

They bill themselves as “caffeine with a conscience,” which raises the question of what amoral coffee would taste like. But the folks at Donkey Coffee & Espresso must be doing something righteous, because our hopped-up, fast-talkin’ readers tell us they brew the best cuppa joe in the county.

Second place goes to Perk’s, which like Donkey offers that nice, laid-back, comfy, collegiate, just-sitting-here-on-the-couch-with-my-laptop-working-on-my-novel-over-a-steaming-cappuccino atmosphere.

Third place goes to Brenen’s, which is more of a lunch spot but does make darn good coffee. Our husband never has a second cup at home like he does at Brenen’s, we can tell you that.

Other good coffee dispensers in our area include the Brew Du Soleil Espresso Café, the Front Room at OU’s Baker Center, the Starbucks at Kroger, and the Village Bakery and Café.
